Supporting people with Dementia

This Theory session is aimed at Adult Care in a Community and Acute setting at Novice, Experienced Trainers and Strategic Advisors

Abstract:

When someone is living with dementia, the people around them – as well as their surroundings and individual personality – can significantly influence their well-being. It can help to have some guidance to help you as you get to know the people you care for and start to understand more about dementia and its effects.

- You can make a difference
- It's good to talk
- Dignity
- Understanding how dementia affects behaviour
